

Celebrating 100 Years! 1909-2009

PUCE Weekly News

January 22, 2009

There will be no hot lunch available this coming Monday, January 26.

The accompanying Project Plumpy Nut letter explains this anomaly in detail. Please be sure to read the letter and make a choice regarding your student's participation in the event.

The Muffin Man is back. Please check every Thursday News for his picture. If he is present, the 8th-Grade Class will be selling Mission Muffins on Friday for $1.00 each. Profit from these muffins helps to dig wells in West Africa for families that need fresh water.

Only two weeks until School Spirit Week! Dress for the day and have fun, Tuesday-Friday, February 10-13. Tuesday is Hat and/or Scarf Day, Wednesday is Old-Fashioned Day, Thursday is Backwards Day and Friday is nothing. Just kidding! Friday is Crazy Hair Day.

The St. Helena Star has an article this week describing the escrip program and how it benefits local schools. All you need to do is go online to escrip.com and register yourself for the program and select PUC Elementary as the school you would like to benefit from your Safeway purchases. Our school is easy to designate by using our zip code to locate us—94508. Thank you!

Is chocolate "recession-proof"? The jury is still out. For those of you that plan on purchasing See's candy for the Easter holiday, consider purchasing it here at PUC Elementary. The Parent Club will send home flyers in February for candy delivery before Easter. All proceeds (we make a 50% profit!) benefit our students.

Next week's lunch menu is Week 2: Macaroni, Asian Entrée and Vegeburgers
